

Fuente Elvira 2008

Winery: Bodegas Pedro Escudero

Region: Rueda D.O.

Grapes: 100% Verdejo

Winery: For several generations now, the Escudero family has been the heir to a line of winegrowers who are enthusiasts of their land, customs and traditions regarding the cultivation of the vines. The family owns a vineyard planted with 32 Ha. of Verdejo and 2 Ha. of Viura. The name of the vineyard is “Fuente Elvira” and the soil, which consists of gravel and sand over a red clay sub-soil, has some of the most highly regarded soils in the Rueda district.

Wine: This wine is made from fruit grown in the Fuente Elvira vineyard with an average vine age of 40 years. The grapes are gently crushed in pneumatic press, following cold maceration for 24 hours. It was fermented under temperature-controlled at 60 degrees F for 28 days. The wine was in contact with its lees for 28 days. Stabilization and light filtration occurred before bottling in March 2008.

Reviews:

“Light yellow-gold. Sexy aromas of Meyer lemon, yellow rose, anise and mace. Pliant and gently sweet, with fresh lemon/lime and pink grapefruit flavors and a gentle smoky quality. The floral element repeats on the finish, which is spicy, focused and quite long. Give this a little air.”
