

Nessa Albariño 2025<sup>(White Wine)</sup>

albariño
nessa

2025
spanish dry white wine

Adegas Gran Vinum is a second generation, family-owned winery that has been producing Albariño since the 1980's, prior to the creation of the Denomination of Origin Rias Baixas. They focus exclusively on Albariño from the Val do Salnes sub-region, which offers vineyard sites with distinct maritime influence.

The wines produced from both estate vineyards and vineyards they manage seek a repeatable saline undercurrent to the typical peach, apricot and floral aromas of Albariño.

|                              |                                                                              |
|------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Appellation           | D.O. Rias Baixas                                                             |
| Grapes                | 100% Albariño                                                                |
| Altitude / Soil       | 40 meters / sandy loam and decomposed granite                                |
| Farming Methods       | Traditional methods with vines trained on high pergolas                      |
| Harvest               | By hand into small boxes for transport to the winery                         |
| Production            | Static clarification followed by fermentation at low temperature for 20 days |
| Aging                 | Aged for a few months on fine lees prior to bottling                         |
| UPC / SCC / Pack Size | 0183277000048 / 10183277000045 / 12                                          |

Reviews:

"The "Nessa" bottling of Albariño from Adegas Gran Vinum a fine bottle in the 2025 vintage. The vineyards that contribute to this wine are grown on decomposing granite soils and the wine is given three months aging on its fine lees prior to bottling. The 2025 Nessa delivers a lovely, classic bouquet of fresh lime, tart pear, a touch of menthol, a beautiful foundation of salty minerality, gentle leesy tones and a lovely touch of lemongrass in the upper register. On the palate the wine is bright, focused and full-bodied, with a fine core of fruit, an excellent foundation of minerality, a lovely girdle of acidity and excellent length and grip on the complex and beautifully balanced finish. The extra time aging on its fine lees gives this wine excellent mid-palate depth and impressive backend lift. 2026-2040." 92+ points View from the Cellar; John Gilman May- June, 2026

"I tasted this wine in late-April of 2026, with nearly 4,000 wines already having passed over my I look forward eagerly to the Albariño releases from Adegas Gran Vinum every year, and am never disappointed. This "Nessa" release remains reasonably priced even in this time of inflation and tariffs, and, every bit as important, higher in quality than the great majority of its competitors in this price category. The orchard fruit notes (as in, peaches and nectarines) are pure and fresh but not obvious or sweet, and the balance between fruit flavors and freshening acidity is excellent. The bottle I sampled had a screw cap closure for this 2025 – the first I've seen for it, and that's frankly a better closure than all but the very best corks for Albariños wood-influenced. Spanish producers are notoriously slow to adopt screw caps even when they would perform better at keeping fresh wines fresh, so it is nice to see a producer show some leadership."

91 points Wine Review Online; Michael Franz - May 20, 2026

Imported by Grapes of Spain® Selected by Aurelio Cabestrero® www.grapesofspain.com