“Seriously delicious and impressive Sauvignon...the wine is supremely refreshing...just barely medium-bodied, which makes it very versatile for sipping or partnering with foods at the table, with lots of zesty acidity but also enough substance to work with lots of different dishes...on the balance point between melon and citrus notes...tilting just a few degrees in the citrus direction. The substantial flavors and zesty acidity both hold their own in beautiful balance through the finish, which is a sure sign of very wise picking decisions and really solid work in the cellar.”
